

Darwin?

Where did you come from?

Did you come from the doubt of one creator, or one creation?

Did you come from the need for some new thing, or a new perspective?

For those who seek to counter-interpret an event, seek to undo one perspective without relent. And the final course of their device remains, a spittin' image opposite, with pains.

Are you, Darwin, the elect; which the course of nature did select, to provide with one effect, a way for man's own deity to protect?

And is not this deity mankind, yet not the whole, but any mind, individually to find, that he himself is God?
